1. Running the Hello World Container

Command: docker run hello-world — verifies that Docker can download an image and run a container.

2. Creating the Dockerfile and Building the Python Image

The screenshot shows the Dockerfile instructions, the docker build command, and the custom Python container output.

3. Verifying Docker Images and Containers

Commands: docker images and docker ps -a — displays the downloaded images and the containers created.

